

School of the past

In the memories of our
Parents and Grandparenst

School subjects

In the past, the subjects were the same, in the 5th grade there were 11 of them, as it is today.

The access to knowledge was more difficult because there was no Internet to check, for example, if something is correct .

School uniforms

- The students had to wear uniforms in grades 1-4, but there was an exception: colorful Friday

The backpacks

- The backpacks were similar to ours but less colorful, and the students carried books, pencil cases and sandwiches in them.

School

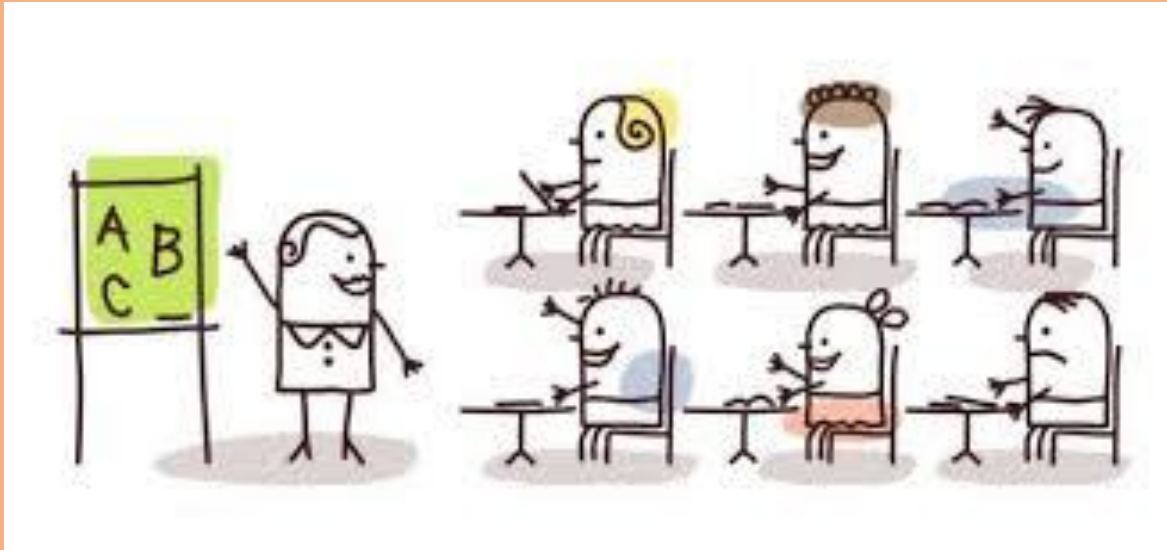

- The school was large and less cosy. In those years, there were many children.

Teachers

- There was a lot of homework and the teachers were very strict. It was necessary to go the library to find information, for example in an encyclopaedia, which today is replaced with the Internet (and Wikipedia).

Methods

- The teachers had various methods of punishing unruly students, such as making them stand in the corner or writing "I will be polite "hundreds of Times.

Breaktime

During the breaks, children played together-jump rope game, tag or ball games (there were no mobile phones with games).

Additional classes

- Additional classes devoted to sports, music, dance or foreign languages
